

Course Catalogues

Economic Courses

On the following webpages you can find information concerning the courses offered by the Department of Economics:

Undergraduate courses

<http://www2.vwl.uni-mannheim.de/35.1.html>

Graduate courses

<http://master.vwl.uni-mannheim.de/program.php>

*These courses are just available for master students. However, please note that from the graduate course program only elective courses can be chosen. Core courses are not open for exchange students.

Courses offered by other faculties of our University

Courses held in English by other faculties or departments can be accessed through the website of the International Office. (www.uni-mannheim.de/aaa/courses)

Exchange students at our university need to take the majority of their courses from the school to which they are coming on exchange, i.e. they are allowed to take 2-3 courses at other faculties (e.g. at our business school).

Lecturing periods

Fall Term

August/September – December

Spring Term

February - June

Contact

Dr. Christiane Cischinsky
Assistant for Student Affairs / Bachelor
School of Law & Economics - Department of Economics
68131 Mannheim
Phone: ++49 (0)621 181 1761
E-Mail: Christiane.Cischinsky@uni-mannheim.de

The curriculum of the Bachelor of Science programme in Economics is as follows:

	Semester
Introductory phase	1st (Fall)	Principles of Economics	Civil and Commercial Law	Economic History and/or Business Administration 1	Analysis, Financial Mathematics and Linear Algebra
	2nd (Spring)	Macroeconomics A	Microeconomics A	Economic Geography and/or Business Administration 2	Statistics I
	3rd (Fall)	Macroeconomics B	Microeconomics B	Business Administration 3	Statistics II
	4th (Spring)	International Economics	Economic Policy	Public Finance	Introduction to Econometrics
Advanced phase	5th (Fall)	Seminar in Economics	Elective courses in Economics	Elective courses in Economics	Interdisciplinary elective courses
	6th (Spring)	Bachelor thesis	Elective courses in Economics	Interdisciplinary elective courses	Interdisciplinary elective courses

In the introductory phase the courses "Microeconomics A", "Microeconomics B", "Macroeconomics A" and "Macroeconomics B" are offered in English. Furthermore the course "International Economics" is mostly taught in English.

Elective courses offered in English

In the advanced phase (third year of studies) about 50 % of the lectures and almost all seminars are offered in English:

Spring 2014

Lectures

Applied Microeconometrics with Stata
Behavioural Economics
Contract Theory
Demographic Divide
Econometrics of panel data and social interactions
Family Economics
Financial economics
History of Economics
Internet Economics
Programming Methods for Economists
Social Security and Social Insurance
The Role of Geography, Culture and Institutions in Long-Run Growth
Time Series Analysis
Topics in Political economics
Transport Economics and Policy

Seminars

Applied Econometrics
Economic Growth Comparisons over Time and Space
Great Depressions of the 20th Century
International Taxation
Seminar in Public Economics
Seminar in experimental economics: social preferences
Seminar on Contract Theory
Seminar on Empirical IO
Strategic Information Transmission
Strategic Thinking
The Economics of Information and Communication Technologies
The Theory of Regulation under Asymmetric Information

Autumn 2014

Lectures

Applied Microeconometrics with Stata
Applied Multivariate Statistics
Competition Policy Analysis
Contract Theory: Incentives and Motivation
Development Politics
Economic Policy and Market Imperfections
History of Economics
Human Capital in History
Industrial Organization
International Financial Policy
Introduction to Experimental Economics
Law and Economics
Social Security and Social Insurance
The Evolution of Financial Markets

Seminars

Applied Econometrics
Biases in economic decision making
Empirical Methods in Industrial Organization
Empirics of Social Networks
International Taxation
Public Economics
Seminar in energy policy: The German renewable energy act
Seminar on Social and Economic Networks

Please note: These courses are electives offered for students in the third year of studies. Our course offering changes from year to year.